Midwife Gagner Joins CPH’s Birthplace

POTSDAM, NY – Certified Nurse Midwife Megan Gagner, DNP, has joined St. Lawrence Health System’s medical team. She is working at Canton-Potsdam Hospital’s Birthplace on the third floor.

Ms. Gagner is a familiar face to those in the Obstetrics Department, as she previously worked at Canton-Potsdam Hospital (CPH) as a labor/delivery, and postpartum nurse.

Ms. Gagner earned her Doctorate of Nursing Practice, as well as her Master of Science in Nursing/Nurse Midwife degrees at Frontier Nursing University, Hyden, KY. She is certified in Advanced Electronic Fetal Monitoring, Neonatal Resuscitation, Advanced Evaluation and Management of Psychiatric Illness in Reproductive-Age Women, and Advanced Cardiac Life Support.

“I am excited to rejoin CPH because it was my home where I had worked for over four years in Labor and Delivery. I know many of the staff, the providers, and the community,” she said.

“I grew up in St. Lawrence County and spent the majority of my life here. It is the hub and center of healthcare in the North Country, and where quality care is provided,” Ms. Gagner added.

She is a member of the American College of Nurse-Midwives, New York Affiliate; Association of Women’s Health, Obstetric and Neonatal Nurses; American Journal of Nursing; and Phi Theta Kappa International Honor Society of Nursing.

As a Certified Nurse Midwife, Ms. Gagner delivers babies, and provides healthcare and wellness to women. She helps her patients manage their labor, and monitors both the mom and baby during delivery. She joins SLHS colleagues Barbara Drake Hillis, MSN, CNM; and Laurie Mousaw, CNM.
